

Website Re-vamp!

As regular visitors to our website will have noticed, over the last few weeks the site has undergone a huge makeover and redesign. The Words Worth Reading Ltd. website now boasts additional pages as well as additional services and promotional offers and we hope it is much more welcoming to our customers and a lot more user friendly.

An example of some of the improvements we have made can be seen within our business pages where we have now made available samples of some of the work we have successfully completed for our clients. We have also provided just a small selection of some of the positive feedback that we have received. Our job seeker pages have also had a re-vamp and are now clearer and easier to use. In addition we have added our new Job Seekers Bundle Deal, which offers customers a CV full MoT, an application form editorial and a personally tailored cover letter all for just £100! As an added bonus with this deal we will also give you a free copy of our essential interview skills resources pack. Another improvement to the site is the development of our discussion forum which is now packed with really useful information and interesting discussion topics posted by members.

We would love for you to take a moment to visit the forum to say hi and to add your input to some of the many ongoing discussions or to start a new thread all together!

Please do visit our website to see for yourself how much it has changed and to take advantage of our services and all of the free information that is available to you.

Our Charity Work

The Words Worth Reading Ltd. commitment to charitable causes has continued tirelessly and our efforts have been acknowledged and praised in recent weeks. As a team, through fundraising events such as the 3km sponsored run in June and the Seven Sisters Dog Walk, which is planned for September, Words Worth Reading have been able to make regular and significant donations to several charities. We have recently received letters of thanks from both Shelter and the RSPCA, who we contribute to on a monthly basis. In addition we donate regularly to The Dogs Trust and to Oxfam who receive 10% of all of the submission fees that we receive, so a big thank you must be passed on to all of our customers who help us to make these worthwhile donations!

Please take a look at our website www.wordsworthreading.co.uk to see all of the services available to job seekers, students, writers and businesses.
