

Welcome!

The start of term is now upon us again, so welcome back to the students after your nice long summer break! It's now time to get down to some hard work and start studying hard again. It's also a new season for budding writers, businesses and job seekers. Don't forget that Words Worth Reading are always here to help!

Our Charity Work

Words Worth Reading is committed to raising money for charity, and as such took part in the Seven Sisters Walk this month. Samantha Pearce and five other members of the team took part in a sponsored walk with their dogs. They covered a massive 20 miles in about 6 hours. Although very tired the next day, they were delighted to learn that they had raised over £150 for Oxfam! A big well done to all those involved!

Recruitment Fayre

Words Worth Reading were once again asked to attend the Job and Training Exhibition at Colchester Town Hall. Our main aim was to speak to as many job seekers as possible about our CV, application form and covering letter services. The day was well attended and we were able to hand out many packs that fully explain our services. Hopefully we can now work with these people in order to improve their CVs, application forms and covering letters and enable them to get their ideal job!

New recruit!

We would like to offer a warm welcome to Stef Collins our latest recruit. Her primary role at Words Worth Reading will be to work alongside our business clients, for example, researching and writing web content, policies and business plans. Stef is an exceptional critic of literature and will use her editorial skills to review CVs, application forms....in fact the list is endless!

Welcome aboard Stef!
